

Learn From One of the Great Mystery Performers of Our Time:

Max Maven

A Lecture

Tuesday, September 3, 2002, 7 p.m.

325 N. 23rd Street, Allentown, Pa. 18104

(On the Muhlenberg College campus, in conjunction with
The Theory and Art of Magic, Series II)

Max Maven is a living legend.

He has performed in over two dozen countries.

He's appeared on hundreds of television and radio programs on five continents, including his own series and specials in Japan, Taiwan, England and Canada. He was named by Magic magazine as one of the "100 Most Influential Magicians of the 20th Century."

Max Maven is also one of magic's most prolific creators, having published over 1700 creations in the conjuring literature. Orson Welles said that Max has "the most original mind in magic."

Now you can find out why!

The lecture will run over three hours.

You'll learn commercial, practical effects that will fool you first, and delight your audiences later. Be prepared for offbeat plots and intriguing methods, with a special emphasis on the psychological details.

Admission is $30 per person. To sign up, or for more information, contact Dr. Lawrence Hass at 484-664-3376, or Lhass@muhlenberg.edu
