Muhlenberg College Lacrosse by the Numbers

2003

Muhlenberg's first varsity season in 23 years, after men's lacrosse was reinstated as a varsity sport in January 2001. The Mules have steadily improved every year since, setting school records for wins in consecutive years in 2007 and 2008 and finishing tied for third in the powerful Centennial Conference in 2009.

2008

Wins in 2008, a school record. The Mules dropped their first three Centennial Conference games, all against teams ranked in the top 10 in Division III, to fall to 2-4 overall. But then Muhlenberg reeled off eight consecutive wins - also a school record - to reach 10 wins and qualify for the CC playoffs for the first time. Towards the end of the season the Mules also received votes in the national poll for the first time.

Wins in the final seven games of 2009 by Muhlenberg. The Mules had a difficult start to the season, losing their first six games, five of which were against nationally ranked opponents and two of which were by one goal. The sixth, an 8-7 overtime loss to Haverford, was perhaps the most crushing, but Muhlenberg recovered by reeling off a 5-2 finish to the season. And that finish very easily could have been a perfect 7-0, as the Mules' two losses both came by one goal. Muhlenberg's remarkable turnaround led it to a tie for third place in the ultra-competitive Centennial Conference, its highest finish ever.

Margin by which the Mules trailed 18th-ranked Gettysburg at halftime last season. Though Gettysburg shut Muhlenberg out in the second half and prevented the upset with a 7-3 win, the Mules played the powerhouse Bullets the closest they ever have. Gettysburg would go on the Division III national championship game, where it fell to Cortland State.

Straight years the Mules have had at least one All-American. Kyle Farris and John DeLuca were the program's first two All-Americans in 2008, and last year DeLuca again received the honor. Muhlenberg has also had two first-team All-Centennial Conference selections the past two seasons.

Distance, in miles, from Allentown to Dublin, Ireland, where the Mules spent part of a nine-day trip in the summer of 2008. The Mules visited such historic sights as the Ring of Kerry (above), Blarney Stone, Tower of London and Buckingham Palace. They also played games against the Dublin Lacrosse Club and Irish National Team, defeating both. The NCAA allows overseas trips such as this every three years.

Muhlenberg College constructed a state-of-the-art on-campus game and practice facility during the summer of 1998. The multipurpose stadium includes an artificial turf playing field with e-layer pad, an eight-lane all-weather track, bleacher seating for 3,000 and lighting. The facility was the first of its kind in the Lehigh Valley.

Scotty Wood Stadium, also home to the Mule field hockey, football and track teams, received a facelift in the summer of 2008 when the original AstroTurf 12” surface was replaced with AstroTurf GameDay Grass™ 3D.

AstroTurf GameDay Grass™ is an infill turf system tufted into a super-stable, multi-ply primary backing system that is covered with a heavy urethane, environmentally friendly BioCel™ coating for uniformity, consistency and precise performance across the entire field.

AstroTurf GameDay Grass™ 3D is a natural-looking synthetic surface that’s more durable than 100% polyethylene systems. Tweed tufting of AstroTurf GameDay Grass™ 3D more accurately mimics the true coloration of natural grass. A double nylon Root Zone acts as a traction layer, providing fiber support and reducing the compaction associated with other infill products.

The facility is named for two prominent figures in the school’s athletic history. The stadium honors the late Milton W. “Scotty” Wood for his many years of support and service to the College and its scholar athletes. He began Wood Dining Services, now prominent in the food service industry, in 1947 by feeding Muhlenberg basketball players. The Mules’ annual tipoff basketball tournament is also named in his honor.

The field honors Frank Marino, one of the most beloved coaches in school history. He led the football team to a 54-40-6 record from 1970 to 1980 and was 1976 Middle Atlantic Conference coach of the year. Marino served the athletic department in numerous other capacities – including head men’s lacrosse coach from 1968 to 1978 – during his 34-year association with the College, earning the respect, loyalty and admiration of hundreds of young men and women.

A three-level, 40,000-square-foot addition to the Life Sports Center opened in August 2004, further improving Muhlenberg College’s athletic facilities.

The addition, built directly west of the John Dietrich Field House, includes a large weight facility, an expanded cardio-fitness area, a snack bar, new facilities for health service and counseling, training rooms, locker rooms and coaches’ offices. The structure overlooks Scotty Wood Stadium and Varsity Field and is joined to the Life Sports Center by a large indoor corridor on the main level. A new main entrance faces the campus.

The project also entailed renovations in the Field House, including installation of a new floor and track, new netting, new lighting and painting.
Chris Bissinger
Head Coach
Hampden-Sydney '95 • Sixth Season

In his sixth year as Muhlenberg College’s head lacrosse coach, Chris Bissinger is looking to build on the team’s highest finish in the Centennial Conference in 2009. The Mules tied for third in the CC, missing out on a second-straight playoff appearance because of tiebreakers. After an 0-6 start that included five games against nationally ranked opponents and two one-goal losses, Muhlenberg finished the season 5-2. The Mules had an All-American for the second consecutive season, as well as two first-team All-CC selections.

The Mules earned their first playoff berth ever in 2008, coming back from an 0-3 start to win their last five Centennial Conference games. Muhlenberg had its first two All-Americans and its first two first-team All-CC selections, set school records with 10 wins and eight consecutive wins and received votes in the national poll for the first time.

Bissinger enjoyed some exciting benchmarks in his first three years, including working with Muhlenberg’s first all-conference selection in 2005, as well as multiple all-conference selections in ’06 and ’07. In addition, Muhlenberg beat some of the traditional powers in the Centennial Conference, and had very competitive games with all members of the Conference.

Bissinger began his coaching career at his alma mater, Hampden-Sydney College, in the summer of 1995. He spent seven years working under Head Coach Ray Rostan after playing for him during his collegiate career. In that time Hampden-Sydney played in four NCAA tournaments and averaged 10 victories per year. Bissinger commented, “My experience at Hampden-Sydney was tremendous. I had an opportunity to play for, and then work with, one of the best people in the sport of lacrosse. Coach Rostan made a tremendous impression on me and is the primary reason why I chose to become a college coach.”

Bissinger enjoyed success at Hampden-Sydney as a student and as an athlete. He was awarded membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership society, and Phi Alpha Theta, a national history honors society, as well as being selected to Who’s Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1995. On the lacrosse field he was a two-year captain, a three-year all-conference selection, as well as a 1995 second-team All-American.

Bissinger was inducted into the Hampden-Sydney Athletic Hall of Fame in the fall of 2008.

4. Be a competitor

A native of Maplewood, N.J., Bissinger graduated from Columbia High School. He and his wife, the former Ms. Kerry Demeritt, reside in Allentown, blocks from campus.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Bissinger represented the Centennial Conference as a member of the USILA All-America committee in 2007, 2008 and 2009.

Kyle Hart
Assistant Coach
Muhlenberg ’07 • Third Season

After a distinguished four-year playing career at Muhlenberg, Kyle Hart is in his third season on the sidelines. Hart set a school record with 173 career ground balls and ranks second on Muhlenberg’s season ground balls list with 67 in 2005. The close defender and longstick midfielder twice received All-Centennial Conference honors, making the second team as a senior.

As an assistant, Hart has worked with players mainly on the defensive end of the field, as well as serving as the coach for all box substitutions during games. He was the primary recruiter of the classes that now make up Muhlenberg’s sophomores and freshmen. Said Coach Bissinger, “Kyle has been an integral part of our development here - first as a player and now as my assistant coach. He is among the most experienced young assistants in our league and has accumulated seven years of familiarity with our league as a player and coach.”

Hart is a native of Massapequa, N.Y., and was an all-county defenseman at Massapequa High School. He graduated from Muhlenberg in May 2007 with a degree in international studies.

Christian Messler
Assistant Coach
Muhlenberg ’07 • First Season

Christian Messler is in his first season as an assistant at Muhlenberg.

Messler played in 39 games for the Mules from 2004-07 as a defenseman and occasional faceoff wing. A long-pole defender as a freshman, Messler was voted the “Player’s Player” by his teammates as Muhlenberg’s MVP.

Messler spent the past two years as an assistant at Division II Franklin Pierce while working toward a master’s in education. He graduated from Muhlenberg in 2007 with a degree in history.
The members of the Muhlenberg College lacrosse team are appreciative of their status as collegiate players and make every effort to give back to the community that supports them.

The team is engaged in four major community service projects for the 2009-10 school year:

- The Lehigh Valley Network marathon for Via, a non-profit human service agency that provides services for children and adults with disabilities like autism, cerebral palsy and Down syndrome. Proceeds from the event benefit Via’s Community Connections program, helping individuals with disabilities live and connect in the neighborhoods where they live through recreational and volunteer activities.

  Muhlenberg ran the 26.2-mile marathon as two relay teams. The first team comprised of head coach Chris Bissinger, senior Ari Jacobson, Dr. George Benjamin (math department), junior Tom Brant and senior Al Carpetto. The second team consisted of assistant coach Kyle Hart, Dr. Chris Borick (political science department), senior Will Garrity, sophomore Clint Watkins and senior Matthew Schroeder. The legs varied from 3.6 to 6.5 miles.

- Ashly’s 5K Race for Freedom, an event created in honor of a local woman who was killed in Iraq. More than 60 members of the Muhlenberg men’s and women’s lacrosse teams participated, with proceeds going to a scholarship fund and the support of troops and veterans.

  The Mules drew the praises of other participants. One wrote: “This past Saturday was my first 5K race and it was wonderful to see the Men’s and Women’s Lacrosse Teams there. This was a great cause for Ashly Moyer and a great remembrance of other military service personnel. At 53 years old, I am still trying to recuperate from the race but seeing Muhlenberg students there kept me going. GO MUHLENBERG LACROSSE!! Thank you to the coaches for inspiring their teams.”

- The ALS Walk at Coca-Cola Park. In October, Muhlenberg players and coaches participated in the walk to raise money to find a cure for ALS. Tom Grace, Muhlenberg’s former equipment manager, was diagnosed with the disease in April 2008. The Mules, along with the baseball and men’s tennis team, surprised Tom by showing up to walk with his team, “Tommy’s Troops.” The Mules helped raise over $8,000 for the team.

- “No Shave November.” The Mules participated in the annual tradition for several years, but in 2009 they decided to “clean up” their act and grow their beards for a cause. The team used the month to raise awareness for prostate cancer, creating its own fundraising initiative and collecting over $3,500 in donations for the Prostate Cancer Foundation.

In the past Muhlenberg has participated in other community service projects, such as the Cops N Kids Program, through which players visit a local elementary school, read to the children and encourage them to continue to read and do well in school; helping to clean up an illegal dumpsite in Allentown; and leading fundraising efforts for injured classmates.

2010 Outlook

The 2009 season was a tale of two seasons for the Mules. They began their journey with some tough losses (Season 1) and they ended their season with some strong wins (Season 2). In the end, they had eight losses, four of which came by one goal. Of the eight losses, four were to teams invited to the NCAA Tournament, and three of those losses were by one goal. The ’09 Mules finished tied for third in the Centennial Conference (their highest finish ever) and they are working hard to ensure their continued success in the nationally competitive Centennial Conference. The Centennial Conference boasted two participants in the NCAA Tournament last spring, including a national runner-up.

Muhlenberg will return an experienced team of 25 veterans after graduating five seniors, and have added 17 newcomers to their roster for the 2010 season. For the first time ever, Muhlenberg will have a team comprised of four classes of student-athletes recruited to the College by Head Coach Chris Bissinger.

2009 Recap

At the conclusion of the ’09 season, two Muhlenberg student-athletes, Nick Fletcher and John DeLuca, were selected first-team All-Centennial Conference. DeLuca was a shutdown defenseman all season long and was a repeat first-team all-conference selection, a first for the program. DeLuca was also a USILA honorable mention All-American for the second year in a row, as well as a Scholar All-American (another first for the program).

2010 Attack

The Mules return sophomore Corey Aferiat (left), an attackman who was the team’s leading point scorer in ’09. Aferiat will quarterback the offense from the “X” and look to build on a very strong first year. Fellow sophomore Alex Ar Dolino played primarily in the midfield in ’09 and contributed 6 goals and 2 assists. He looked fantastic in the fall season and will add explosive athleticism to the unit. Junior Brent Siebold enjoyed a fantastic first year with 23 goals and 7 assists in 2008 and a strong second year with 15 goals and 6 assists. Newcomers Doug Rheiner and Jack Reilly will make this unit the most competitive and athletic it has ever been. Rheiner is a very talented young player and Reilly is a savvy feeder from the “X”. Senior captain Sean Delany will be playing both in the midfield and at “X”. Delany looked very solid in the fall season and is among the strongest players on the team. Newcomer Andrew Masterson was hurt in the fall season and will join the team at some point in the spring of 2010. Joining Masterson is newcomer Kyle Houston, a tough-minded and hard-working athlete.

2010 Midfield

Muhlenberg’s midfield will be led by senior captain Ari Jacobson (right) and sophomore Clint Watkins. Jacobson finished the ’09 season with 12 goals and 5 assists. He is athletic and displayed added strength in the fall. Jacobson is going to be an all-around leader on the field. Watkins is a young and talented offensive midfielder who has the potential to become a dominant player for the Mules. He contributed 10 goals and 2 assists in his first year.

Seniors Sean Delany and Al Carpetto will compete with juniors Zachary Armstrong and Charlie Helm for consistent playing time in the midfield. Helm can shoot the ball and is anxious to get on track. Armstrong is an athlete who can do many things well. Sophomores Greg Flasser and Charlie Pianko will look to establish themselves for... consistent playing time. Flasser is in excellent condition and Pianko faces off. Fellow sophomores Matt Zaverucha, Nick Beattie, Andrew Disdier and Nick Rispoli will all add depth and will all contribute in situational play for the Mules. Newcomer AJ Diaz is a big-time talent from New York state champion Manhasset High School who was on the Mule football team in his first fall.

Senior captain Ari Jacobson looks to anchor the faceoff “X” along with Rispoli and Pianko. Joining those three will be newcomers Ian Jones, Ted Albanese, Mike Ficano and Michael Carpetto. Jones looked very strong in fall practices and will look to solidify the position for the Mules.

The Mules will play defense in the midfield with experience and talent. Numerous players will compete, including sophomores Kyle Sullivan and Chase Nadell, a two-sport athlete. Both are tremendous athletes; Sullivan looked like a budding star in fall workouts, and Nadell is coming off an all-conference football season. Michael Carpetto, Jones and the do-it-all Jacobson will also add depth to a critical position for the Mules.

The development of a strong and consistent midfield will be a determining factor in the 2010 season.

2010 Defense
Senior captain Matthew Schroeder (left) is a leader on and off the field. He is vocal and passionate about continued success and is focused on finishing his athletic career as one of the great leaders in this young program’s history. He is going to be a key to the Mules’ high expectations in 2010. Fellow seniors Ivan Brown and Will Garrity are talented, experienced and athletic. All three played significant roles for last year’s defense. Juniors Tom Brant and Andy Curley had impressive years in 2009 and gained invaluable experience and motivation. Sophomore Jonathan Fritog is very talented and looks to earn playing time down low. He looked impressive in the fall and should push for playing time.

A group of talented newcomers will push for some time against the veterans. Zach Weiner, Ian de Ruiter, James Coleman, Eric Lang, Will Levine and Jay Salasko are potentially the best group of defensive newcomers to date, and they will add depth to a veteran core.

The combination of the veterans and the newcomers on the defensive end of the field will be a critical part of Muhlenberg’s season in 2010. This is the most complete defensive unit, from top to bottom, since the program’s inception.

2010 Goalkeepers
Returning between the pipes for Muhlenberg are juniors Michael Horowitz (right) and Oliver Baron. Horowitz earned significant playing time in 2009 and had some terrific games. Baron showed up for fall practices in the best shape of his life and worked very hard throughout. Horowitz was studying abroad in the fall of 2009 and therefore didn’t practice with the team.

Joining these two veterans are two newcomers – James Fasola and Bryan Wilson. Fasola is a talented lefty with a great frame. Wilson is another two-sport athlete who played football in the fall.

2010 Schedule
Muhlenberg opens its 2010 lacrosse campaign with Stevens on February 20 at home. The Mules will then host Montclair State on February 27, followed by another home contest with Marywood on Saturday, March 6. Centennial Conference action begins with Washington coming to Muhlenberg on Saturday, March 13. Muhlenberg then travels to Gettysburg and Haverford on March 20 and 24. The Mules return home to host Swarthmore in a Saturday evening showdown on the 27th of March. They will then travel to Franklin & Marshall on Saturday, April 3, to be a part of F&M’s 2010 Lacrosse Extravaganza Day. The F&M game is followed by two home evening games, the first again Dickinson on April 7 and the second vs. McDaniel on the 10th. Muhlenberg hosts Lehigh Valley rival Moravian on Wednesday, April 14, for its third consecutive evening game before traveling to Troy, N.Y., for a non-conference game with Rensselaer on April 17. The regular season concludes when the Mules travel to Ursinus on April 24.

The Centennial Conference playoffs will take place on Friday, April 30, and will conclude on Sunday May 2. The NCAA Tournament begins on Wednesday, May 12.

The Mules’ 2010 schedule is as challenging as ever, and includes three teams that participated in the 2009 NCAA Tournament (Gettysburg, Haverford and Montclair State). Muhlenberg has added two teams that weren’t on 2009’s schedule – Marywood and Rensselaer. The 2009 schedule, which was rated as the 18th most challenging of the 156 Division III lacrosse programs by laxpower.com, included too many close games that ended in losses for the Mules. If they are to make a statement in 2010, they are going to have to figure out how to finish some of those tightly contested games.

Affiliation: Private, affiliated with Lutheran Church.
Location: Allentown, Pa.; 55 miles north of Philadelphia and 90 miles west of New York.
Academic Emphasis: Liberal arts and preprofessional studies.
Full-Time Enrollment: 2,150; 42% men, 58% women.
Student-Faculty Ratio: 12-1.
Admission: Highly selective. Over 4,200 applicants for a class of 580. The single most important factor is high school record. Entering freshmen are strong performers academically and give evidence of the potential for positive impact on the college community as extra-curricular contributors as well.
Application Deadlines: Early Decision, February 1. Regular Decision, February 15. Muhlenberg values the energy and enthusiasm Early Decision candidates bring to the campus.
Personal Interview: Strongly recommended.
Financial Aid: Approximately 65% of students receive some form of financial aid. Both need-based and merit aid are available.
Students: Muhlenberg students are drawn largely from the Middle Atlantic and New England states, although 35 states and over a dozen foreign countries are represented.

Campus Life: More than 100 clubs and student organizations, from United Student Government to Habitat for Humanity, four national fraternities and four national sororities.

Active Learning
Many of Muhlenberg’s classes are taught seminar style, with an emphasis on discussion and classroom interaction. Science labs are hands-on, with the opportunity to do real science in a small college setting. Independent study, mentored research, internships and field experience are encouraged. The goal is to promote an active, participatory learning style.
That commitment to first-rate teaching and active learning means that Muhlenberg students always have access to learning experiences that are not simply informational, but interesting, even inspirational. It means looking for teaching approaches where students are not passive but rather engaged, active learners. The result has been an academic program widely recognized for educational excellence based on both rigor and nurture.

Positive Outcomes
A Muhlenberg education provides a powerful launching pad into graduate school and entry level careers. The College’s success rates with both law school and medical school placement are regularly over 90%. In addition, many Muhlenberg students go on to master’s and doctoral programs each year, often with teaching fellowships or other stipends.
Muhlenberg grads also go on to a full range of employment opportunities, from America’s largest banks and accounting firms to its “blue chip” business concerns, from the most prominent social and helping agencies to schools, government and family-owned businesses, and from a variety of media, writing and advertising positions to work in the performing and fine arts.

The ‘beautiful and safe’ Muhlenberg campus provides a serene setting to counteract students’ hectic academic schedules. ‘The front lawn is great,’ notes one student. ‘It always gets crowded with kids just hanging out in the spring or fall or playing in the snow in the winter.’

“Muhlenberg holds its students to rigorous academic standards, and they know it. From its solid Lutheran roots to its current standing as a top premed school, Muhlenberg shows students it really does care. ‘Academic excellence is, by far, the top priority,’ says a junior, ‘but the people are warm, friendly, compassionate, and truly care about making Muhlenberg the best possible place for everyone.’”

College Management

Peyton R. Helm
President of the College

Peyton Randolph Helm took office as president of Muhlenberg College July 1, 2003. He holds the faculty rank of professor of history. Immediately prior to joining the Muhlenberg community, Helm served as vice president for college relations and professor of classical studies at Colby College in Waterville, Maine.

Helm began his career in academic administration at the University of Pennsylvania, where he was named coordinator of College House Programs in 1981. He served as associate director of development and then director of development for Penn’s School of Arts and Sciences. From 1981-1988 he was also an adjunct assistant professor of ancient history and urban studies at Penn.

In 1988, Helm was named vice president for development and alumni relations at Colby, where he was promoted to vice president for college relations in 2001.

The Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) has awarded Helm its Steuben Apple, given to advancement professionals who have been rated as a top speaker at 10 or more national conferences. Helm has delivered addresses and conducted seminars on ethics, stewardship, writing, capital campaigns, market research and volunteer management at more than 30 conferences across the country and internationally. His writing has been published in CASE Currents and Successful Fund Raising, as well as various scholarly publications in the field of ancient history.

Helm earned his bachelor’s degree in archaeology, with magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa distinction, from Yale University. He earned his doctoral degree in ancient history, specializing in ancient Greek and Near Eastern history and literature, from the University of Pennsylvania.

Karen Green

Karen Green began her duties as vice president for student affairs/dean of students at Muhlenberg College on June 15, 2006, following more than four years as dean of students at Wells College in Aurora, N.Y.

At Muhlenberg, Green oversees more than 70 full-time employees and several departments, including athletics and recreation.

"Muhlenberg is committed to our scholar athletes and the athletic programs are an integral part of a liberal arts education," said Green. "The lessons learned from participation in our programs will sustain our students throughout their lives. The opportunity to be involved in intramural and recreational programs provides balance from the rigors of a challenging academic experience. Students learn negotiation skills, teamwork, time management and to be effective leaders.

"Our coaches are committed to excellence and are partners with students notwithstanding their skill level. My predecessor as dean of students, Rudy Ehrenberg, said it best, ‘We must provide our students with outstanding coaches, superb facilities and a commitment to excellent programs. These are the ingredients for a quality program and Muhlenberg College is committed to such excellence.’ I strongly support these words and will be fully committed to the College’s athletic programs.”

Green received her baccalaureate degree from Agnes Scott College in Atlanta in 1986, where the Karen Green Human Relations Award was created in her honor. She went on to earn her master’s of divinity from the Candler School of Theology at Emory University in 1997.

Green began her administrative career as a resident director at Spelman College, later served in the admissions office at Agnes Scott and subsequently became director of orientation, residence life and student activities at her alma mater before leaving Atlanta to accept the position of director of multicultural affairs at Hamilton College in Clinton, N.Y.

She held additional leadership positions in student life at Agnes Scott, Emory and Hamilton before assuming the position of dean of students at Wells in September 2001.

Sam Beidleman
Director of Athletics

Following a national search, Muhlenberg College named Sam Beidleman director of athletics in July 2003. He had been serving as interim director of athletics since April 1, 2003.

As director of athletics, Beidleman supervises Muhlenberg’s 22-sport intercollegiate program, as well as the intramural and recreation programs.

“Muhlenberg College is proud of its long-standing tradition of academic and athletic excellence,” said Beidleman. “While we strive to win on the field or court, we measure our success in many other ways including the development of character, leadership, scholarship and ethical behavior.”

Beidleman returned to Muhlenberg after a prior 35-year association with the College, during which he held responsibilities in every area of athletics programming – as a student, coach, faculty member and administrator. He was a varsity letterwinner in football and track and spent 13 seasons as an assistant football coach following his graduation in 1963.

It was as a baseball coach that Beidleman truly made his mark, coaching the Mules from 1970 to 1992 and winning 255 games, setting a school record for a coach in one sport. His teams captured five Middle Atlantic Conference Southwest League titles and three Southern Division championships.

Beidleman, who held the academic rank of associate professor of physical education from 1965 to 1992, also served as men’s intramural director and director of recreation. After retiring from coaching, he was full-time athletic business and facilities manager until August 2000.

Beidleman earned his master’s degree in counseling and guidance from Kutztown University in 1970.

Corey Goff
Associate Director of Athletics

Corey Goff was promoted to associate director of athletics after serving five years as assistant director. In addition to his administrative duties, he serves as head baseball coach and summer camp coordinator.

Jenny Warmack-Chipman
Assistant Director of Athletics

Jenny Warmack-Chipman is in her ninth year as an assistant director of athletics. In addition to her administrative duties, she serves as senior woman administrator, advisor to the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee and head volleyball coach.

Muhlenberg College Lacrosse 2010
In its 16th year of all-sports competition, the Centennial Conference has taken its place among the nation’s elite small college conferences.

On June 4, 1981, Keith Spalding, then-president of Franklin & Marshall College, made the announcement that “eight private colleges found it timely and appropriate to form a round-robin schedule among institutions with similar attitudes and practices in intercollegiate football.” With that statement, the Centennial Conference was born.

From 1983-92, the eight private colleges — Dickinson College, Franklin & Marshall College, Gettysburg College, Johns Hopkins University, Muhlenberg College, Swarthmore College, Ursinus College and Western Maryland College (now McDaniel College) — participated in a football-only conference. Because of the success in operating the Centennial Football Conference, the league expanded to an all-sports conference in 1992, with Bryn Mawr College, Haverford College and Washington College joining as charter members.

A purpose and mission statement adopted by the presidents stated, “Recognizing that our fundamental purpose is the academic mission of institutions, we agree to establish an all-sports conference in the spirit of rationalizing our competition by controlling travel, schedule and costs. The Conference will be controlled by the presidents of the member institutions.”

The Centennial Conference encourages athletic competition among national liberal arts colleges and universities that share similar academic aspirations and a commitment to the importance of the total educational experience of students engaged in sports. Intercollegiate athletics programs are an integral part of the life of the member institutions and flow from their educational objectives. Each institution provides a comprehensive, broad-based athletics program. All varsity sports are treated equitably, and every sport is important.

The CC crowns champions in 24 sports and continues to sponsor intercollegiate programs of national prominence for women and men. On the average, Centennial members boast 19 varsity teams, which is well above the national norm.

The CC is widely recognized as one of the top Division III conferences in men’s lacrosse. Over the last seven seasons, CC teams have compiled an exceptional 320-150 (.681) record in non-conference games.

The CC champion earns an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The Conference has sent two representatives to the NCAA’s in 13 of its 16 years, with a team reaching the national semifinals 10 times and the championship game on six occasions. The CC has an all-time record of 34-21 in NCAA games.

The CC was the only conference (156 teams ranked) to have three programs in the Top 10 in the 2008-09 school year.

(156 teams ranked)

During the 2008-09 school year, Muhlenberg won the Centennial Conference championship in football, women’s basketball and softball, and Mule individuals earned bids to the NCAA Division III Championships in wrestling, men’s and women’s track and field, and men’s cross-country.

Muhlenberg has excellent on-campus athletic facilities. Opened in 1982, the Life Sports Center is a building designed for athletics, intramurals and “sports for life” as primary uses. The original solar-heated building, a series of three additions to the Memorial Hall gymnasium, includes the spacious John Deitrich Field House, featuring basketball and tennis courts and a 160-meter running track; the 25-meter Alumni Pool; and the Levering Tyson wing, containing racquetball and squash courts and rooms for sports medicine, weight training, wrestling, dance, instruction and equipment distribution.

Memorial Hall, the original facility built in 1954, seats 3,529 and is an excellent facility for viewing indoor sports.

The Life Sports Center recently underwent a significant renovation that further improved the Mules’ facilities. The three-level, 40,000-square foot addition was built directly west of the Deitrich Field House and opened in the fall of 2004. The new facility includes additional locker rooms and office space, new recreation and fitness areas and a new health and counseling center.

Outdoors, the Mules have a grass field used by the men’s and women’s soccer teams, constructed in 1997, and a stadium for use by football, field hockey and lacrosse surrounded by an eight-lane, all-weather track, constructed in 1998 and resurfaced with AstroTurf GameDay Grass™ 3D in 2008.
After graduating an outstanding senior class that included the program’s all-time leaders in points, goals and assists, Muhlenberg knew it wouldn’t be easy to build on its record-setting 2008 season in 2009.

But following an 0-6 start, the Mules did just that, closing out the season 5-2 to tie for third place in the Centennial Conference - their highest finish ever.

The Mules ended the year with a 5-8 record and went 4-4 in the CC; not a bad accomplishment for a young team that relied so heavily on freshmen and sophomores. And even though Muhlenberg lost its first six games, there were some positive developments early in the season.

The Mules trailed Gettysburg, the eventual CC champion, only 4-3 at halftime before losing, 7-3. It was the first time the Mules had been within five goals of the Bullets. In the next game, Muhlenberg came back on Haverford, which would go through the CC regular season undefeated, twice in the second half before falling 8-7 in overtime.

That left the team with an 0-6 record, with five of the losses coming to nationally ranked teams. But things turned around from there, as the Mules won their seventh game, defeating Swarthmore 4-3 in double overtime.

At that point, it looked like the season might play out exactly as it had in 2008, when the Mules won their last five CC games to earn their first-ever playoff berth. Muhlenberg evened its CC mark at 3-3 with 10-8 wins against Franklin & Marshall and Dickinson, but then lost at McDaniel, 12-11. When Muhlenberg, Washington and McDaniel all tied for third place, the Mules were the odd team out of the playoffs because of their losses to the other two.

Muhlenberg closed its season on a high note, however, defeating Ursinus, 8-7, in its last game. Junior Ari Jacobson scored the tying goal with nine-tenths of a second left in regulation, and seniors Nick Fletcher and Andrew Lolley ended their careers by teaming up on the winning goal with 8.9 ticks left in the first overtime.

Fletcher and senior John DeLuca would go on to earn All-Centennial Conference first-team honors. DeLuca received All-America honorable mention for the second year in a row.

Where Are They Now?

At Muhlenberg College we are proud of the academic achievements of our athletes. Listed below are graduates from the men’s lacrosse program who played while Coach Bissinger has been at Muhlenberg. We are pleased to note both the number of players who met the graduation requirements and the quality of the occupations at which they work.
