

Below is a brief guide for using the Writing Center's online tutoring platform, WOnline. This platform will enable you to easily schedule appointments with tutors either in-person or online and receive one-on-one feedback on any and all writing assignments. All questions about this system should be forwarded to Pierce Lockett, Assistant Director of the Writing Center (piercelockett@muhlenberg.edu).

WOnline: Registering

All remote appointments and synchronous video conferences with tutors will be made using WOnline (<https://muhlenberg.mywonline.com/>). Below is an example of what the front page looks like:

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL muhlenberg.mywonline.com/index.php?logout=YES. The page features the Muhlenberg College logo at the top. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column, titled "Writing Center", contains a message: "You have successfully logged out of the system." Below this, it asks "First visit? Register for an account." and "Returning? Log in below." There are input fields for "Email Address" and "Password". Underneath, it says "AVAILABLE SCHEDULES" and lists "Writing Center Schedule" with a radio button. At the bottom of this column, there is a "Check box to stay logged in:" with a checked checkbox. The right column contains a welcome message: "Welcome to the Muhlenberg College Writing Center! You can schedule appointments online with writing tutors from all disciplines. To get started, register for an account by clicking the link to the left (it only takes a minute). Online sessions will proceed in much the same way as face-to-face appointments in our Walk-in Center. You are welcome to discuss any aspect of an assignment at any stage of the writing process. You will also be able to attach your paper/assignment into the WOnline space for you and your tutor to share. For additional instructions on registering and using the WOnline platform, click here. If you have any questions or concerns about online tutoring appointments, please email Pierce Lockett (piercelockett@muhlenberg.edu)".

Before you can make an appointment, you'll be asked to register for an account; this should only take a minute or so. As with face-to-face appointments, you will get a confirmation email and you will be able to change your appointment if necessary. As always, please be mindful of the tutor's time; repeated "no-shows" may affect your ability to schedule appointments in the future.

WOnline: Scheduling an appointment

Once you've logged in, you're free to click on any of the white blocks next to a tutor's name and schedule an appointment. The appointment window should look like this:

Please note that appointment slots are between 30 minutes to an hour in length for both online and in-person appointments. At the bottom of the Create New Appointment form, you are invited to attach your paper to your appointment slot. We encourage you to share your paper with the tutor, who will be the only person able to view the document while you have a conference. Once you've signed up, your appointment slot will look like this:

WOnline: Preparing for an online appointment

Before your scheduled appointment (you should receive a few reminder emails), you'll be asked to click on your appointment slot, where you will click on this text box to join the online conference:

The screenshot displays a WOnline appointment interface. On the left, under the heading "Client", the name "Pierce Lockett" is listed. Below that, under "Appointment Date", it shows "Wednesday, May 20, 2020" from "1:30pm to 2:00pm" with a "[MARK MISSED]" link. Under "Staff or Resource", "Pierce Lockett" is listed. On the right, there is a red "ONLINE" label and "CREATED: May 20, 2020 2:24pm by Pierce Lockett". Below that, there is a link for "Post-Session Client Report Forms" and a red "Add New" button. At the bottom, a grey box contains the text "MEET TUTOR ONLINE? ONLINE" followed by instructions: "If you choose an online appointment, log back in to this website approximately five to ten minutes before the start of your appointment. Then, open this appointment and click 'Start or Join Online Consultation.'" and a red "START OR JOIN ONLINE CONSULTATION" button.

Once you click on “Start or join online consultation”, you’ll enter the video conference. A Zoom window will open up where you and the tutor can meet.

Vanderbilt University has compiled a helpful guide for navigating the various functions of the WOnline whiteboard.¹ Your tutor will also help you navigate the system as the session goes along. Once the session is over, you can copy and paste whatever changes to your document that you and the tutor had made throughout the session. You’re encouraged to save this document frequently; technology fails sometimes.

FAQ

I don’t have an appointment, but I need to be tutored immediately. Can I still be tutored?

Absolutely! The Writing Center also offers in-person tutoring in our Walk-in Center, located on A level of the Trexler Library. Our walk-in hours this semester are the following:

- Sunday-Wednesday 3:30pm-5:30pm, 7pm-11pm
- Thursday 3:30pm-5:30pm, 7pm-9pm

What if I have a question that the tutor can’t answer?

For questions related to common writing concerns (citations, formats, etc.), a comprehensive guide can be found on the Writing Center webpage (<https://www.muhsenberg.edu/academics/writingcenter/>) or the Purdue OWL (https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/purdue_owl.html). For questions regarding research, we encourage you to reach out to one of the Reference Librarians, also located in the WICC.

Will tutors edit my paper?

The Writing Center’s goal is to collaborate with tutees about their writing. While we do not edit papers, our tutors are trained to enable you to arrive at your own ideas and clarify your own writing on your own terms. Our tutors are more than happy to help you identify common writing errors and provide you the tools to correct those errors on your own.
